仮設住宅での暮らしを快適なものにするために

For a more comfortable life in temporary housing

Niigata University (Iwasa Lab., Faculty of Engineering) has compiled a Users Manual for Temporary Housing, which is a collection of knowledge and experience drawn from the three major disasters that have struck Niigata Prefecture. The manual aims to provide readers with tips on how to make life in temporary housing even a little bit more comfortable, and introduces various ways to make living in temporary housing more enjoyable and interesting as well as advice on how to get along well with your neighbors, among other useful information. Please refer to the following website for further details.
